"Throw Out the Life Line"—
The kidneys need help.

They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood.

They're getting worse every minute.
Will you help them?

Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

Will cure any form of kidney trouble.

Otto Schnuer, Main St., Norway, Me., says: "I have no hesitation in allowing my name to be used as an endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me of a severe attack of kidney trouble several years ago and I have taken them on several occasions since then, when I felt that my kidneys needed a tonic. This remedy has always given me prompt relief and has rid my system of uric poison. Other members of my family have also used Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results. I hope every person in Norway suffering from kidney trouble will procure this remedy from Stone's drug store and give it a trial." 35-39

A Vow.

Maidens three in bright June weather,

Careless of the house,

Laughing, bound themselves together

With a vow of dowry.

Vowed they then, devoutly bending,

By the roses' breath,

Tripled their vows, and ending,

Changeless into death.

And in pledge to each was given

From the chin a rose.

And the fragile bond was given

Through the pledge they chose.

Yet what human vow is stronger

Or what earthly tie more true

And what token kept longer

Plighted faith thereby?

Seasons change and sorrows gather

Not to fade with time

Youthful transports chill

But returning bright June weather

Brings the roses still.

MARY H. WHEELER.

A Bit of Experience.

I have met with a good many people

In jogging over life's varied way;

I've encountered the clever, the simple,

The crabbed, the grave, and the gay;

I have traveled with beauty, with virtue,

I have been with the ugly, the bad,

I have laughed with the ones who were merry,

And wept with the ones who were sad.

One thing I have learned in my journey—

Not to judge one by what he appears.

The eyes that seem sparkling with laughter,

Or that seem to keep back the tears,

Are often the most guileful and loving.

Hide often the souls that are vile,

While the heart which is merry and cheerful

Is often the truest and truest.

And I've learned not to look for perfection

In one of our frail human kind.

In hearts the most guileful and loving

Some blenish or fault we can find;

But yet I have never found the creature

So depraved or so mean.

But had some good impulse—some virtue

That 'mong his bad traits might be seen.

And, too, I have learned that no friendship

Is made as brittle as glass.

Just let a reverse overtake us—

Our "friends" are on the other side pass;

But, ah! I have found some few loyal—

Some hearts ever loving and true!

And the joy and the peace they have brought me

Have cheered me my whole journey through

Plaisted's Pointers.
The following are extracts from Plaisted's speeches:
"No man can be a successful humbug."
"You can't fool country people by pretensions."
"No man is clever enough to simulate a sincerity which he does not feel and continue to make people believe in him."
"You can't make votes by making promises that you can't keep. If you try it, everybody knows you are not sincere."
"I don't care much what people say about me after I am gone. I want them to feel like sending me flowers while I am alive."
"When a man takes a public office, he ought to remember that he is working for a lot of good people who trust him."
"There is a man on a little farm back in the country who had enough confidence in me to hitch up his horse on election day, drive to town and vote for me for Governor. When I spend the State's money I am going to spend the money just as if he had given it to me and told me to get just as much out of every dollar for him as I could."

FRYBURG.
The body of Mrs. Phoebe Cole of Woodfords was brought here for burial.
Fred Rife and family spent their vacation with their parents and in camp at Kezar pond.
Harriet Pike has returned to her school in Waltham, also Kate Abbott to Farmington Normal school.
The academy school opened Tuesday with one hundred and ten pupils, and about fifteen more are expected to enter.
Wilson Evans and son, Herbert have been camp at Lovewell's pond. Charles Evans and wife were guests of his brother, A. H. Evans.
George P. Downing of Norway with factory damaged shoes will be on the Fair grounds next week. See him and get fitted early in the day.
Scrope Howe and family who have spent the summer in camp have returned to the village. They have rented part of Mrs. Perkins' house, corner of Main and Elm streets.
Gertrude Souther of Worcester, a sophomore at Wellesley, spent a week with her relatives, the Barrows family. Mrs. Georgia Walker of Bridgeport, Conn., was also a guest of the same household.
Capt. J. E. Oughton of Thomastown, with whom Mr. Eastman took a four weeks' schooner trip last winter, spent two days with him and took an automobile trip through the mountains with them.

WEBB'S MILLS.

George Burgess and son have finished work at Songo.
Agnes Pinkham of Bolster's Mills is boarding at W. C. Pinkham's.
Mrs. Lovett and children of South Portland are visiting at Hall Edwards'.
William Colby, who has had charge of a corn factory in Maryland, has returned home.
Mr. and Mrs. Annis of Massachusetts have been spending a few days with their brother, Cyrus Reese, at Dexter Edwards'.

Mrs. Matilda Kennard.
Mrs. Matilda Kennard, whose death occurred at her home in Portland, Sept. 24, was well known both in Portland and Bridgton, where she had many friends.
Mrs. Kennard's maiden name was Rounds; she was born in Brownfield 75 years ago. In early life she married James K. Kennard of Bridgton, where they lived until 1879, raising a family of eight children. Mrs. Kennard was a member of the Bridgton Congregational church.
In 1879 they moved to Portland, where they have since resided. Twelve years ago Mrs. Kennard had the misfortune to fall and break her hip; from this accident she never recovered but she bore the long years of suffering patiently and without complaint.
She is survived by her husband and four children, Alvah Kennard and Mrs. Emma K. Frye of Portland, Mrs. George Sykes of Somerville, Mass., and Mrs. James H. Fenderson of Saco, also one brother, William Rounds of Brownfield.

Non-Resident Hunters.
Persons not bona fide residents of the State and actually domiciled therein, shall not hunt, pursue, take or kill any wild animal, or birds or wild animals at any time without having first procured a license therefor as hereinafter provided. Such licenses shall be issued by the commissioners of inland fisheries and game, upon payment of $15. To hunt ducks, partridges, woodcock, and other birds and wild animals during their respective open seasons prior to Oct. 1st, a license fee of $5 shall be paid annually. A person having paid the fee of $5 may procure a license to hunt bull moose and deer by paying $10 additional. Such licenses shall entitle the purchaser to take to his home, in addition as now provided by law, properly tagged with the tag detached from the license, and open to view, ten partridges, ten ducks and ten woodcock that he has himself lawfully killed.
In counties where the open season on deer is different from the general law of the State, where it does not begin until Nov. 1st, this $5 license is good up to the time that the open season on deer begins in that county.
The holder of a license must personally present his license and his game to the transportation company when offering game for shipment. He cannot go home and leave his license and have his game sent by his guide or anybody else.
God's Day.
Daisy is a little girl. When she comes down to breakfast on Sunday morning it is with a more winsome smile than usual on her rosy face; and her voice is always more soft and sweet, it seems, than on other days.
"I wonder how it is, mamma," said papa, one morning, "that our Daisy is always so much happier on Sundays than on week days."
Then Daisy spoke out bravely: "You see, papa, Sunday is God's day, and I want to make it as nice for him as I can."

LOCKE'S MILLS.
C. R. Bartlett was in Berlin, N. H., one day, recently.
Mrs. Merrill and daughter, from away are guests at Jerome Ames'.
Lorna Littlehale was at her home in Bethel, Saturday and Sunday.
Roy Brown spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Brown.
Mrs. Bert Sanborn of Bethel was a guest at W. W. Coolidge's, last Thursday.
Mrs. Herrick of Portland was a guest at her son-in-law's, W. W. Coolidge's, last week.
Tom Brown, who is attending Gould Academy, was home Sunday, accompanied by a friend.
C. B. Tebbetts was called to Auburn, recently, on account of the illness of his mother, Mrs. E. L. Tebbetts.
Dana Grant spent Saturday and Sunday at his home, from Bethel, where he is attending Gould Academy.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunham of Boston called at C. E. Stowell's and Mrs. Ruth Young's one day last week.
Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rand and son, Eben, of Curtis Corner, called on friends as they passed the place, en route for home, Friday.

BOLSTER'S MILLS.
Abbie Haskell is much improved in health.
Katie Foster of Bridgton has been visiting at A. R. Clark's.
Arthur and Fannie Tyler of Mason visited at Sumner Skillings' the last of the week.
Mrs. J. Bennett Pike and children were over from Bridgton, Saturday, and called on Mrs. Olivia Pike.
Ralph and Ethel Haskell have returned to the city. Ethel is in Hanover, N. H., where she will resume her duties as nurse.
Work at the new corn shop is brisk and the corn mostly comes in fine condition as the weather has been very favorable for its growth.

FOR STOMACH PAINS
Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Colic, Cholera Morbus, or Biliary Colic.
MILBURN'S INSTANT RELIEF
A guaranteed family remedy. At all dealers.
Prepared by the Norway Medicine Co., Norway, Maine.
There was a falling off in 1909 in fatalities on account of the grip amounting to almost one-third as compared with the figures for 1908, according to the census bureau's mortality report.
Hatred never declared a desirable dividend yet—it never will. Better forget the past and make a new beginning. That is good sensible advice, that the bigot won't take and so the battle goes merrily on. Those who dance to the tune of hate must pay the fiddlers liberally.
World's Famous Dyspepsia Prescription.
It Drives Away Stomach Distress in a Few Minutes, Stops Heartburn and Belching.
If you have anything the matter with your stomach you ought to know right now that M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets are guaranteed by Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, to cure indigestion, or any sickness caused by indigestion, such as the following, or money back:
Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sour stomach, fermentation of food, belching of gas, heavy feeling at pit of stomach, vomiting of pregnancy.
If your meals don't digest but lie like a lump of lead in your stomach, if you have foul breath and loss of appetite, a few M-I-O-N-A tablets will put your stomach in fine shape in short order.
If you or any of your family suffer from stomach trouble of any kind, get a 50 cent box of M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets at once. Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, and druggists everywhere sell M-I-O-N-A on money back plan.
"I was cured of dyspepsia that had assumed the nervous form, by the use of M-I-O-N-A and I praise M-I-O-N-A highly. My trouble got me weak and nervous so that I could not sleep; the bowels were constipated, and I had sharp, shooting pains through the kidney regions, and hard, dull backaches. M-I-O-N-A is worth its weight in gold."—Walter T. St. Clair, Mich. 374-39

"Signs" and Wonders.
Children, no matter though they do not "mean to be naughty" need continual reminding, and every mother of a half-dozen or more of mischievous, forgetful little folks, oftentimes grows weary with the endeavor to keep things straight. I have four, and am speaking from my own experience.
Constant "nagging" even in a good cause, is beneficial to neither mother or child, but quite the contrary. Often, too, one does not discover that things have been left around until after the culprit is off for school, and a late "reminder" is little better than none.
One day, about a year ago, I learned a bit of wisdom which I thought worth while applying to my own case. It was from a mother who, like myself, found the constant iteration of instructions very wearisome, and devised the plan which I have adopted with the most perfect satisfaction, and has been a past it on: The weather was bad, instead of saying to each child, "Oh, why did you wear your rubbers into the house, and get mud on all the floors?" she had the following sign printed on a piece of paper and tacked it on the door: "Children will please leave their rubbers in the vestibule."
If she found nightdresses or other garments lying on beds or floors in the morning, she quietly stuck up this request, "Please hang up your nightgowns." The same with other things. When the children improved in one respect she took away the sign, and when they grew lax she put it up again. The signs were interesting to the children and served to impress their responsibilities upon them as no amount of nagging would have done.
The plan is working equally well in my own household. I procured a box of rubber letters and some white cardboard, and now the children take great pride and pleasure in printing their own signs, even though they do not like to have them in sight.

WEST STONEHAM.
Nature is donning her bright hues robes.
A hard frost last week Thursday night but some of the gardens are looking fine. Mildred Frost, who is teaching school in this district, attended the fair at Norway.
H. B. McKeen recently shot a large owl which measured 43 inches across its wings from tip to tip.
Goldie Adams, who is teaching at West Lovell, was at home over Sunday. Her sister Alice is teaching school in Albany.
The bears are still making sad havoc among the sheep, John Adams having recently lost two, making five in all this season, and Lenon Fontaine one.
Aunt Kate Adams, who is stopping at John Adams' is on the sick list with a stomach trouble; Charles Lawrence still remains poorly. J. C. Sawyer has not been as well the past two weeks.
Guests at J. C. Sawyer's, Thursday, were Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Sawyer and S. G. Manson of Lovell. They made the trip up the lake in Sawyer's motor boat.
Ephraim Durgin is helping John Adams on the frame of the new house he expects to erect in the near future. His family will move into Bartlett's camp near the site of the steam mill that was burned several years ago and he will take the old house down to make room for the new one.

EAST STONEHAM.
Audrey McAllister is working for Mrs. George Brown.
Violet, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McAllister, is on the sick list.
Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bartlett and five children are at their camp for a few weeks.
Merton McAllister came home from North Fryburg where he worked in the cornshop.
Rev. Mr. Eggleston, wife, and daughter Margaret have returned to their home in Brookland.
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kendall and daughter Esther visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McAllister, Sunday.
Mrs. Frank McAllister and two daughters, Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Chaplin called on Mrs. Angie Friday. All did ample justice to the fine dinner and the time to go home, 3 o'clock, came all too soon.

BETHEL.
The corn shop expects to complete its pack this week.
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hall have gone to North Anson for a visit.
Geneva Hutchins of Portland is visiting her sisters in Bethel.
Annie Merrill of Auburn has been the guest of Mrs. J. S. Burbank.
Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Jordan went to Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the National G. A. R. Encampment.
Mrs. Rainey Morrill was operated upon for appendicitis, at Portland.

Edith Hastings goes to Boston, Saturday, for an indefinite time. Her niece, "Little Dick" Hastings, who has spent the summer with her grandparents, will return to Dorchester with her.
An enjoyable reception was given by the seniors in honor of the Freshmen of Gould Academy. The party was held in the gymnasium. Mrs. Guy Thurston, Mrs. Eugene Martyn and Mrs. Hannu Packard were chaperones.

Pulling together—straight ahead is what counts a town. When the off bags off on the yoke, the high one must hang just as hard in the opposite direction, or they will both land in the ditch. Ask any old farmer if that's not true.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.
Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.
Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the disability is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.
Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Not Coughing Today?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says. He knows. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Robust health is a great safeguard against attacks of throat and lung troubles, but constipation will destroy the best of health. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills.

MILTON PLANTATION.

Surprise Party and Hushing Bee.

A very pleasant evening was spent September 24 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Mesereau in honor of their granddaughter, Lena Francis, the occasion being her eighteenth birthday.

An old fashioned hushing was indulged in, after which a baked bean supper was served, plates being laid for seventy-one.

The music of Mr. and Mrs. Cuvier Jackson was much appreciated, and loudly applauded. Games were played until a late hour. Many beautiful and costly presents were received by Miss Francis.

Raccoons are quite troublesome among A. B. Grover's chickens. Friday night Mr. Grover heard an outcry among his chickens and upon investigation found several coons trying to get into the chicken coops, with the result that three were killed.

We note the changing hue of the maples. There's a tinge of yellow to many of the trees, with occasionally a splash of red, and now there's almost fashies across our vision a spot of brilliant scarlet, apparently suspended aloft up near the sky line, making a beautiful contrast with the blue of the sky and the fleecy white clouds floating lazily past, and backed by a group of evergreens.

Hon. Prentiss Cummings of Brooklyn, Mass., who has just published a translation of the Iliad of Homer in the meter of the original, is a native of Oxford county and a summer resident of Paris Hill. Mr. Cummings has been at work upon this translation for more than 20 years and its accomplishment is a matter of moment.

RENOVATING PONGEE SILK.

How to Make It Look as New and Silky as When First Purchased.

Pongee silk can be washed in water and come out looking as well as if it had been cleaned, but few people seem to know that it cannot be washed in the ordinary way at all if good results are expected. For it is just the little things one must know about in washing it that make all the difference.

The first little point to remember is not to wash it in hot water or rub soap on it, especially strong soap. Instead dip it into a lukewarm suds of some pure white soap and carefully wash it out until it is clean, rinsing in several waters without bluing. Never rub it on a washboard, but gently wash it out with the hands.

The next little point is in connection with the ironing, and the secret of quickly and successfully ironing pongee is simply to allow it to be hung in the sun and air until it is bone dry before beginning and then iron it carefully on the wrong side. That is all. It sounds simple, and perhaps for this reason these points are overlooked by most people, who do just the opposite way, and their work ends in disaster.

Never on any account sprinkle pongee unless you want to waste long, weary hours in doing it all over again, for sprinkling will surely leave it covered with spots.

And never try to dampen the whole thing at once before beginning, for this also will end in disaster. Before one part is ironed another will become dry, and redampening the dry parts will decorate your suit with "shadows," and then to get rid of these objectionable places you will be obliged to rewash it all over again. Don't try even to iron pongee over a damp cloth, for this method will produce shadows also. And, of course, ironing pongee on the right side, as so many do, leaves an unsightly gloss all over it.

There is no reason why pongee should not look as new and silky after it has been properly laundered as when first bought if these directions have been followed and it is allowed to become bone dry before beginning to iron it.

If a frock of pongee is embroidered in colors it is best to wash a small piece of it before risking the entire suit. If the colors run at all, then wash it in gasoline or, better, send it to the dry cleaners.

CLEANSING OF MARBLE.

How to Remove Stains and Produce a Bright Polish.

It is well to have on hand a recipe or two which will help one to clean marble. Take two parts of soda, one of pumice stone and one of finely powdered chalk. Sift these through a fine sieve and mix them into a paste with water. Rub the mixture all over the marble and the stains will be removed. Now wash it with soap and water and a beautiful bright polish will be produced.

Another way to remove stains from marble is with a paste made of powdered pumice and fuller's earth mixed with strong soap lye. Put a thick coating of the paste on the marble and pass lightly over it with a moderately warm flatiron until it is dry. Leave it for a short time and then wash it off with clean water. Should the first application fail to remove all stains repeat the process.

Discoloration made by smoke may be removed in the same manner.

How to Candy Pineapple Strips.

Candied pineapple strips are delicious and are easily prepared. The fruit is first peeled, then cut in strips two inches long, half an inch wide and about a quarter of an inch thick. Measure the fruit and add half the quantity of granulated sugar and let it stand until the sugar is dissolved, which may be nearly twenty-four hours. Drain off the juice and boil it five minutes; then add the fruit and cook for three or four minutes. Drain the pineapple and spread on a platter to dry. The process may be hastened by putting the platter in the sun, the warming closet or even on the top of a radiator. The fruit should be turned once and then rolled in fine granulated sugar. The process is a much more lengthy one than that required for the fruit peel, but a few pieces put in each box make a delicious addition.—Woman's Home Companion.

How to Make Cream of Chicken Soup.

To make cream of chicken soup cut a stalk of celery into several pieces and half an onion into thin slices. Put the vegetables into two cups of milk and heat slowly. Let stand ten minutes, then remove the vegetables. Beat two slightly rounded tablespoons of each of flour and butter together with a few grains of pepper and one-half even teaspoonful of salt. Stir in the hot milk, add two cupfuls of broth removed from boiling a few minutes in the double boiler. This will make a fine soup, but as an extra touch beat the yolk of an egg with four tablespoonfuls of cream, add to the soup and when the egg is thickened serve at once.

How to Wash a Switch.

Do not wash a switch often, but when you do handle it carefully. Pour boiling water over a cake of white soap and make a strong suds. Hold the switch by the stem and lift it up and down in the water, but do not rub or squeeze or do anything that will entangle the hair. After the dirt is removed the switch should be rinsed by a similar movement and hung up to drip and dry. Do not attempt to rub it dry with a towel. If possible hang it out of doors.

"Rich beyond the dreams of avarice, are they not?" "Well, last year's avarice, possibly."—Life.

Notice the Two Hods in the Base of the Crawford Ranges

One is an Ash Hod into which the ashes fall through a chute—all of them—and are easily emptied. The other Hod is for Coal. This feature saves lots of trouble and is patented.

Then there is the wonderful Single Damper (patented); slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.

The Oven has cup-joint heat flues that heat it all over alike.

The Patented Grates save coal and trouble.

Ask the Crawford Agent to show you and write us for circular.

The Spielers and Ballyhoos.

Doing the country fairs affords many people occupation every year and some of those who have been appearing at the Maine fairs this fall have been coming to this state for 25 years. There are the negroes who sing and the negro who wears the tall hat and whistles while he strums upon the auto harp. There are the men who sell whips and those who dispose of trinkets, charms and medals. There are the men who run the change machine and the men who play the game of base ball. It might not be fair to say that the dancing girls have been performing in public for as long a period as 25 years but some of them who appear year after year in their spangled costumes have a familiar appearance.

The "ballyhoo" spielers are the most picturesque of the crowd. There is "Gentleman James" McLaughlin who always wears a dress suit and a tall hat while he announces in strident tones the attractions of the dancing girl and the vaudeville show.

The "spiel" begins after the sleepy looking men with the drums and cymbals have made sufficient noise to attract the passing throng. The first part of the announcement is called the "ballyhoo" and the latter part is known as the "grind."

The ballyhoo goes something like this: "Ladies and Gentlemen—Once more today I have brought before you a part of the company that is giving their performance inside the big tent. The ballyhoo as the L. B. Walker vaudeville and dancing girls' company, or the dancing girls of all nations.

"Now by calling them dancing girls of all nations I don't want you to misunderstand me and think I mean that the little ladies come from all nations and have chance to represent. I don't go from one to another and tell you that this is the La Belle this or the La Belle that or Freda or Omea Loseline or names of that kind. Their names are good American names similar to those of the girls who are over in the Mayflower. They have names such as Sullivan, O'Brien, Cohen, Rubinsky and others of that sort.

"But they give to you the dances of the countries or nations they represent better than you have ever seen these present anywhere else in your life. Now in connection with the dances of the different nations we also give you one of the biggest vaudeville shows ever brought onto a fair ground. We have a company of 20 people and it is one of the best shows of the kind traveling around this state.

"Now my good people I take great pleasure in introducing to you one feature of our performance which is alone well worth the price of admission. In this little lady who is known the country over as Miss Farsa you see the one whom the daily papers have been telling so much about everywhere. She is the little lady who gives the sensational dance which had all of New York crazy for eight long weeks last winter. She has appeared in the leading theatres in America and is known as the Girl in the Black Mask."

"One other feature I will mention and that is this little lady Milla La Traska who will give to you her celebrated Cleopatra dance. Now you have all read of this remarkable woman Cleopatra during the balmy days of the Roman Empire. She was a woman who burned the candle of life at both ends. To fan the dying sparks of her ambition she desired to die as she had lived in a spectacular manner. So good people she danced up and down the streets of old Rome till one day rushing into her palace she picked up a reptile and placing it against her bosom she was stung to death and fell back upon the ancient flagstones dead.

"This little lady, my good people, will give you the dance of the celebrated woman the most sensational, the most spectacular dance even given upon any stage. This dance alone is worth ten times the price of admission. The show in this tent is as much for the ladies as for the gents. I will not say that any more of your valuable time but allowing the little girls to pass within and upon the stage we will go ahead with our performance.

"Buy your tickets now and as soon as you are all seated the show will commence. The price of admission is ten cents which won't break you or start you in business. Ten cents is the price."

Then comes the grind which is a constant repetition of the call to purchase tickets "for the insignificant price of ten cents, or one dime."

Every show has its "spielers." Sometimes one has a woman whose high pitched voice resounds above the noises of other shows and draws before her particular attraction a larger part of the crowd. People at a country fair delight in being separated from their money and the more opportunities which are afforded them for so doing the better is the fair.

Capt. Joseph Dixon, who is with the show where the man allows the snake to bite him, is one of the oldest "spielers" coming to Maine. He is that he first came into this state with Kiko the wild man who died last year at the advanced age of 103.

At the fair the swimming girls did by far the largest business of any of the combination shows and five little girls who did the diving and swimming in the big tank were kept hard at work during the progress of the fair from early morning until the shades of evening fell.

All of these people make good money with their attractions. The "spielers" are well paid and those with the best "ballyhoo" and who can "grind" the crowd the best get the largest salaries. Their season with the country fairs is a comparatively short one, however, but the summer season finds them at the beaches and resorts like Long Island where there is always a demand for their peculiar talents.—(Sunday Press.)

Rules For Autoists.

The International Automobile Association has devised the following rules for the safety and comfort of autoists. It would be well for every driver of an automobile to follow them:—

Article I—If the road is free, the driver can keep in the middle of the road but he must leave on his left sufficient space to allow another car going faster than his and in the same direction to pass.

Article II—Passing of Two Cars—(a) Two cars proceeding in opposite directions when passing must each keep to their right. They must slow down when the road is narrower than 30 feet for them to cross easily (narrow road or fortuitously narrowed by tramways, etc). The speed should be reduced to a walking pace if the crossing is difficult.

(b) When two cars are proceeding in the same direction and at different speeds the car ahead should keep to the right; the one behind should signal itself by blasts of the horn and never pass before the necessary space is clearly open.

(c) A car or carriage must never be passed at full speed in a turn of the road or in a village.

Article III—Turns of the Road—(a) At open turns of the road, that is, when the driver can see the whole extent of the turn, there is no special necessity to slow down.

(b) Whenever part of the turn cannot be seen, the driver must slow down so as to be able to stop within a distance of 12 yards. This rule is most necessary in hilly countries.

(c) In any case, the driver should always keep the right and blow his horn frequently.

(d) In case of absolute necessity for instance, if the right side of the road is blocked, the driver should proceed slowly enough to stop within a distance of three yards. He must also blow his horn continually.

Article IV—(a) On arriving at the top of a hill and when the view of the road is limited the speed should be reduced at least to fifteen miles an hour.

(b) A car should not pass another going in the same direction, when passing the top of a hill, without being sure that there is no other car advancing in the opposite direction.

Article V—Cross Road—(a) If the crossing of two roads is absolutely free, that is if the view is perfectly clear, there is no reason to slow down. When two vehicles are driving toward an open crossing, the driver who sees the other vehicle on his right must leave it a free course; he should therefore slow down and if necessary, stop.

(b) If the crossing is so that the view is impossible or even limited, the driver of the car should slow down to a speed not exceeding fifteen miles an hour. If thus slowed, and he should suddenly see another vehicle and there should be a risk of running into it, he should always turn to his right, even if in so doing he is obliged to leave, for the time being, the road he was following.

Article VI—Roads in Towns and Villages—(a) When passing through towns, the driver must follow the local regulations of speed.

(b) When passing through villages, the speed should always be reduced so that the car may be stopped within a distance of 10 yards, if the road is broad, and of three yards if the road is narrow. The horn must always be used when passing through villages.

Article VII—On the Road—When passing people, horses or cattle, the horn should be sounded so as to attract attention and slow down if the road is narrow. If the horses or cattle are scared the driver must always slow down and if necessary stop the car and even the engine.

Article VIII—Accidents—In case of accidents, the driver must at once stop and give all possible help to the victims of the accident. When the wounded have been properly seen to and when medical aid has been secured, the driver should at once find witnesses capable of giving a thorough account of the circumstances under which the accident happened.

Article IX—A car passing at the time the accident happens must also stop and offer the best possible aid to the wounded and after to those having caused the accident, it being of course presumed that the accident was unpremeditated.

Article X—Stops, Breakdown or Accidents to the car—(a) Every motorist must give assistance to another motorist who asks him.

(b) If the car is broken down the driver's help by the following signals: 1. By day, by waving the right arm in the air, the face towards the car whose aid is asked or by placing over the broken down car a white flag made if necessary with a handkerchief. (2) By night, by waving a lantern across the road.

Health Sayings.

The Successful Woman.

Air of Having "Made Good" Distinguishes Her From Throng.

The working woman who has achieved success shows it. You can pick her out from a throng as you can a successful business man in a sidewalk crowd.

It is not wholly a matter of garments, although that has something to do with it. She possesses the undefinable air of being "made good"—also a late-awake, alert manner, acquired by hard work and its rewards. She carries herself with a pride and dignity quite unlike the haughty air we associate with social position or wealth. It is simply the well-earned insignia of a self-made woman.

As a rule the self-made woman, cares little about the suffrage question. During her busy career she has had scant leisure to study such things; besides she confesses to a belief that politics would have plunged into a study in a co-education school, remembering that sex privileges and sex disabilities count for nothing when a woman shoulders a man's work.

Perhaps suffrage for women, if they ever achieve it, may bring more strenuous careers and larger opportunities. Of what avail, however, will that be unless the woman chooses work according to her capacity and does it to the best of her ability—cheerfully, loyally, faithfully and with a heartfelt interest.

Success.

HEBRON.

An Expert Grower.

A. A. Conant of Hebron, besides being the R. F. D. carrier, is interested in raising small fruit.

Mr. Conant has 1/2 acre of raspberries and although the drought of early summer hurt them, 1000 quarts have been sold this summer and as late as Aug. 30 berries for home use were gathered. Nearly all of them were sold for 15 cents a quart in quart boxes.

The plants were set 4 years ago, the soil being well prepared and a liberal coating of barn manure applied. Since then phosphate has been applied each spring, 200 pounds the first spring, 400 the next, and last spring 600 pounds. Mr. Conant believes rich soil to be one of the secrets of success. The plants were set in rows six feet apart and for cultivating a one horse spring tooth harrow was used. Handles having been fastened on to steady it by. The canes are well thinned each spring. At this time some of them are nearly 10 feet high.

Mr. Conant has received orders already for upwards of 4000 plants the coming spring. State Entomologist Hitchings examined the plants a short time ago and pronounced them free from all plant diseases.

New Offices.

In keeping with the railway itself and all that pertains to it the new city offices just opened by the Grand Trunk Pacific in Gravelle street, Vancouver, is new, smart and altogether attractive. The counters, desks and every bit of furniture and all the fixtures are new and of the latest type. The large room is divided into three sections—in front, the passenger office; in the centre, the freight office; and at the rear, the Canadian Express office. The woodwork is of quartered oak, handsomely finished and upon the walls are hung pictures, appropriately framed, showing the wonderful new scenery along this newest transcontinental line.

GREENWOOD.
Good, Old Fashioned Husking. At a good old fashioned husking held at the town farm, Wednesday last week about 150 bushels of corn were husked about 50 people attended, 37 remaining to supper. A. E. Cole the overseer acted as master of ceremonies while the husking was in progress, while Mrs. Cole had charge of the feeding.
While we do not wish to be considered as final authority on the fine art of cooking we must put ourselves on record as finding the good things set before us eminently to our taste; judging from the amount of food consumed we are not alone in our opinion of its merits.
The only thing lacking to the enjoyment of the young people, (and some of the older ones as well) was the entire absence of red ears. Another husking will be held next Wednesday night at J. N. Cummings where it is promised that by some means, fair or foul, this deficiency will be supplied.

W. F. Farr has been laid up for some time with a bad case of sciatic rheumatism.
Roy Morgan who has been working in the corn shop at Bryant Pond was taken ill there and brought home, Saturday.
Mrs. George Brooks has been under the doctor's care for some time. At this writing she is somewhat improved in health.
Jesse Daniels, who has been visiting at Paul Hill, has returned home. We understand that he is going to sell his farm in this place.
Henry Morgan is at home for a week or ten days from Bryant Pond, while repairs are being made at the spool mill where he has been employed.
It is our sad province to report a third death in the same family within a month, Mrs. P. M. Whitman having lost her husband and two children within that period. The last to be taken was Wendall the youngest child who died Saturday morning of whooping cough followed by convulsions, at this time the two remaining children are quite ill with whooping cough, particularly Glennia who has the disease in its most violent form.

SOUTH WATERFORD.
Anderson-Monroe.
The Springfield Republican of Sept. 15 has the following wedding announcement of special interest to Advertiser readers in this town: The wedding of Mae Gertrude Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Anderson of Baydenville and Frank Atherton Monroe of Cambridge was held at the home of the bride on Wednesday afternoon the 12th.
The ceremony was performed in the parlor, which was decorated for the occasion with laurel and asters, by Rev. Robert H. Lifel of the Congregational church. The best man was Charles Ross of Spencer and the bridesmaid Myrtle Rhoads of Northampton.
The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine, with a veil and carried a bouquet of 21 blush roses. The ushers were Daniel Purington, Raymond Brown and Raymond Bonnett.
A reception was held on the lawn. About 100 guests were present from South Watford, Rumford Falls, West Milan, N. H., Springfield, Florence, Northampton and Haydenville. F. W. Bird of Florence catered.
Many beautiful and useful gifts were given to Mr. and Mrs. Monroe, consisting of cut glass, silver ware, bric-a-brac and pictures.
Mr. and Mrs. Monroe left after the reception on a wedding trip to Mr. Monroe's former home in South Watford. They will be at home in Cambridge after Oct. 1st.
Mr. Monroe is the eldest son of Mrs. Augusta and the late Melville Monroe, and is manager of a large establishment in Cambridge, Mass., dealing in plumbing and hardware.

Granville and Mrs. May Howard visited the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Weston of Harrison, Tuesday.
If anybody asks what is the occupation of W. K. Hamlin, you can say it is an uncertain problem. He may be considered a lumberman as he owns a large mill for converting logs into various forms of lumber. He has another mill and carpenter shop combined where he makes about everything of wood, and wool is wrought into useful material for spinning. He has recently manifested symptoms of a "cough" in the farm. He owns the excellent farm occupied by two generations of his ancestors, besides several other pieces of land and they are probably as well farmed as any similar plots in town. Now in confirmation of the above opinion as to his symptoms, Mr. Hamlin, last week, erected a silo adjacent to his barn and announces that he will soon have a herd of cows to consume the contents of silo, which is circular in form, 8 feet in diameter, 20 feet high and capped by a pitched roof. It is constructed of two inch matched hemlock, the staves held together by a half inch iron hoops. Into this goes the heavy crop of sweet corn grown on 2 1/2 acres, besides two loads of second or c clover mixed with the corn. Mr. Hamlin has also made a very good record raising potatoes. On 3/4 of an acre he harvested 250 bushels of handsome potatoes of the Green Mountain kind practically free from blenheim.
